

Military Mail Address Format

Most everyone is familiar with the USPS standard addressing scheme for all domestic mail.

Name	Name	Name
Street Number	P.O. Box	Rural Delivery
City, State ZIP	City, State ZIP	City, State ZIP

In order to allow Military Mail conform to this scheme, the following abbreviations were created:

Three Military "States":

AA, which stands for Armed Forces (the) Americas
AE, which stands for Armed Forces Europe
AP, which stands for Armed Forces Pacific

Two "City" equivalents:

APO, which stands for Army Post Office
FPO, which stands for Fleet Post Office

Based on these constructs, a typical Overseas Military Mail address looks like this:

Name
Postal Service Center +
Identifier
APO, AP ZIP

or

Name
Postal Service Center +
Identifier
FPO, AP ZIP

By having all Overseas Military Mail conform to the domestic mailing addressing scheme, the USPS can sort and manage it using their sophisticated sorting and distribution machines, just like regular mail. This format also helps when entering address information into web forms that were designed to use the standard USPS Domestic Address Scheme.

Please use the City and State abbreviations as noted above in the Shipping information section when entering orders at Anna's Gourmet Goodies
